Law enforcement/Military/First Responders Scholarship Davidji Masters of Wisdom & Meditation Teacher Training

Davidji, Inc. is committed to making a significant scholarship investment to support law enforcement, military, and first responder officials with a strong interest in strengthening their meditation practice and in teaching meditation.

The Davidji Meditation Academy is committed to making a significant investment in our communities, and as such are committed to making Davidji's teacher training possible for individuals who may not otherwise be able to enroll in the training.

We are honored to offer the Law enforcement/Military/First Responders Scholarship to support students who want to learn to share meditation and mindfulness practices with people in their unique communities. We evaluate scholarship opportunities based on need and the established scholarship criteria.

NOTE: Book purchases and any incidentals are not included in this scholarship or your tuition fees.

Description:

This scholarship is offered to individuals with a strong interest in deepening their meditation practice, who have a desire to teach meditation, and qualify as active members of the Law enforcement, Military, or First Responder professions or veterans who have served in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, National Guard, or Coast Guard and has honorable/general discharge status.

Please take some time to consider the questions below. The Scholarship Committee wants to get to know you as best we can through this form to make sure the program and scholarship matches with your background and intentions.

Scholarship applicants will be shortlisted and contacted by the Davidji Scholarship Committee during the selection process.
